DEATH OF MARTIN VAN BUREN'S NIECE.

Ber Sad Life and Death—Supposed Suicide in a Boarding-Bousse.

The death of Mrs. George F. Deutach, from onium poisoning, was reported yesterday to Coroner Knox by Dr. B. C. Miller, of the Metropolitan Hotel, whe had for some weeks past had her under his care. Ill health, brought on by sorrow and misfortune, had induced the use of laudanum, and the habit of resorting to the drug to allay suffering had become confirmed. Six weeks ago Dr. Miller was called to see Mrs. Deutsch at No. 215 East Twenty-third-st., by a stranger who said that his name was Newball, and that he was a friend of the lady, anxious for her recovery. He found a woman about thirty-five years old, of culture and refinement, but with plain traces of opium eating in her face and form. She submitted herself willingly to his treatment and the first and most difficult stage of the disease was successfully passed, when excitement caused a relapse, and she returned to the use of stimulant.

The phylician warned her of her danger, but in vaim. Mrs. Deutsch had recently removed to a boarding-house kept by a Mrs. Morgan, at No. 234 West Eleventh-st. Here on Monday evening Dr. Miller found her, half-unconscious from the use of opium. She refused pettishly to answer his questions, and after satistiving himself by a search that no more of the poison was within her reach he went away. As hour later a boarder in the house found Mrs. Deutsch dead. A second search revealed a two-onnee bottle that had contained laudanum, and a larger one in which had been chloral. The labels had been carefully removed.

Dr. Weller learned that Mr. Newhall was really George F. Deutsch, his pattent's divorced husband. He now heard that he had called at the house after Mrs. Deutsch's eredidence, No. 46 West Eleventh-st., no person of that name is known.

The Coroner's inquiry brought out the unhappy history of the dead woman, of which the physician had learned much affresay from her. Mrs. Deutsch's maiden name was Harriet Van Buren, and she was a LIGHT ON THE VANDERBILT WILL CASE. LIGHT ON THE VANDERSILT WILL CASE. The circumstances and terms under which the contest of the will of Commodore Vanderbilt was withdrawn one year ago are gradually becoming better known, from a variety of litigations. One of the most suggestive of these is the suit of Z. E. Simmons against Cornelius J. Vanderbilt, begun in the Supreme Court, to recover $50,000. The plaintiff, in his complaint, merely alleges that on July 1, 1879, the defendant became indebted to the plaintiff in the sum of $50,000, for moneys received be-1879, the defendant became indebted to the plaintiff in the sum of $50,000, for moneys received between January 1, 1879, and July 1, 1879, by Cornelius J. Vanderbilt from William H. Vanderbilt for the use of the plaintif; which moneys the plaintif has often promised to pay, but has never done so. Scott Lord, as counsel for the defendant, made an application in Chambers before Judge Donobne that the complaint be made more definite and certain; that it be made to state the times at which the defendant received such moneys: in what capacity William H. Vanderbilt held the $50,000 in his custody for the plaintift, and the names of the agents from whom Cornelius J. Vanderbilt received the money. The motion was opposed by H. M. Whitehead for the plaintift. Justice Donohue granted the motion.

FALLING INTO A PAVED AREA.

A serious accident occurred Monday evening at the Tweaty-ninth-st. entrance to the Gilsey House to Dr. C. H. H. Sayre, son of Dr. Lewis A. Sayre. Dr. Sayre had just alighted from his coupé and had approached the door of the hotel as if about to enter, but suddenly turned about to descend the steps. His foot struck against the curbstone supporting the low railing, and he fell into the paved area some twenty feet below. Detective Hieldelberg, who was standing at the door of the hotel, and to whom the doctor had spoken as he ascended the steps, sprang forward to save him, but the fall was so sudden that the attempt failed. Dr. Sayre's thigh bone was fractured, the broken ends of the bone protruding through the health. He was taken to his home, where the serious operation rendered necessary by the complicated nature of the highry was performed by his father, assisted by other cunioent surgeous.

Dr. Sayre's chances of recovery are still uncertain, but his condition since the operation was performed is sufficiently favorable to give his friends hopes of his final recovery.

A DISABLED STEAMSHIP AT SEA.

The steamship Belsize, which arrived from Avonmonth yesterday, reports that on March 21, in Intitude 50° 30° north, longitude 15° 30° west, a disabled steamer under sail and requiring assistance was signalled. The was the British steamship Llanarthen, in command of Captain Tom. She sailed from Newport, Eng., on March 11, for New-York, and five days afterward during tempestuous weather lost her propeller. The cargo of railroad from had shifted, throwing the vessel over on her side and making ber unuanangeable. Several attempts were made by the Belsize to tow her back to port, but in every instance the low lines were parted. After making every effort to tow the vessel for twenty-four, hours to the eastward, and making only forty-six miles, the Felsize separated from her and proceeded on her voyage to New-York. JUSTICE DUFFY REFUSES BAIL FOR THE PRESENT-THE PRISONER'S VERSION OF THE TROUBLE.
WHAT DR. STERLE SAYS.
William E. Bawyer, the electrician, was arraigned in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday morning by Officer Neylan, of the Twenty-ninth Precinct, who arrested him on Monday evening for shooting Dr. Steele, formerly a colonel in the Southern army. Mr. Sawyer was generally cool and self-possessed in court, but occasionally cast an auxious glance in the direction of his wife and mother, who occupied seats in front of the bench. After Officer Neylan had given his account of the arrest, Mr. Sawyer was allowed to make a statement in his own behalf:
"The shooting of Dr. Steele," he said, "was en-self up at the Twenty-ninth Preemet Police Station."

The counsel for the prisoner made an unsuccessful attempt to have him released on bail. Justice Doufly refused to arant the request until he had a physician's certificate of the condition of the wounded man. At 3 p. m. the Court received a certificate from Dr. J. L. Little saving that Dr. Steele was yet in a daurerous condition. Mr. Hummel then made an effort to have another physician sent to examine the wounded man to obtain another certificate, but the Court having no power to authorize this, Mr. Sawyer was remanded to the Jefferson Market Prison.

There he was visited by a Tribune reporter, to whom he made the same statement as to Justice Duffy. He occupies a roomy cell on the uppermost tier, and scened at ease. He said that at the time of the shooting Dr. Steele was much under the influence of liquor, and was at such times. "a perfect fire-cater." He said he now feared that Steele would shoot him at first sight, and that he intended to have him put under bonds to keep the peace. Mr. Sawyer claumed that Charles Peron. a waiter at the Rossmore Hotel, called him nside Monday evening, and warned him to look out for Dr. Steele who was laying for him. At the hotel the reporter failed to confirm this, and the water Charles could not be found.

The employés of the Rossmore were unanimons in their expression that Mr. Sawyer was a very eccentric man, and that his manner on Monday evening was annoying in the extreme to Dr. Steele, who they said was a quiet, unobtrusive man.

Dr. Steele was found at his house at No. 261 West Forty-second-st., surrounded by his family and his physician. His nose is completely flattened, Dr. Steele said that when he started to leave the hotel Mr. Sawyer got up and passed out just before him, and at the rear of the building on the opposite side of the street, turned, and in a very pleasant way say they said to him: "I do not wish to have any trouble wirh you, and I wish that you would treat me as a gentleman hereafter." Dr. Steele said and the arrest.

The stery of Mr. Sawyer's unkind treatment of his wife when in-briated was reiterated by members of Dr. Steele's family, and Mrs. Mandelick, the laudlady, who said its intolerance became so unbearable that Mr. Sawyer was dispossessed of his rooms April 1, by order of the court, on her application. Dr. Steele said that he had no pistol and was unarmed at the time of the shooting.

INTERNATIONAL RIFLE-SHOOTING.

INTERNATIONAL RIFLE-SHOOTING.

At the meeting of the National Rifle Association yesterday, a letter was read from the Irish Rifle Association, expressing regret that the International match between Ireland and America so successfully begun in 1874, and shot alternately in Ireland and America until 1877, had so long been in abeyonee. The Council hoped that an American team would give Ireland another chance to compete in June next. Major Fuiton offered a resolution that the invitation be accepted, feeling assured that the people would readily subscribe to meet the expense of such a landable effort to revive rifle-shooting from its present letharic state. Another meeting to report upon a plan is to be held Tuesday.

The committee appointed to consider what changes in the conditions governing competitors for the Centennial trophy could be made in order to promote the prospects of annual international rifle competitions, reported amendments. In view of the fact that it is impossible to secure a team to represent the National Rifle Association of Great Britain, if separate teams from Ireland and Scotland are permitted to compete, it was resolved that only one team to represent Great Britain and Ireland abe eligible hereafter; this not to exclude provincial or colonial teams, to which no objection has been upde.

STATEN ISLAND.

STAPLETON.—Officer Love yesterday arrested a transp, on one of the Staten Island ferry boats, on the charge of vagrancy, and arraigned him before Justice McCullough, at Stapleton. The man, who gave his name as Louis Dejethne, said that eight months ago he came to this country from Germany, and, failing into the hands of sharpers in New-York, he soon became reduced in circumstances. He also stated that his father was a count in the old country. Justice McCullough committed him to the County Almahonse. HUDSON RIVER TOWNS.

Mr. Vernon. Surveyors are at present engaged in making surveys between the Connecticut boundary line near Portchester and some point in Mt. Vernon, for the route of what is known as the parallel rail-rand between New-Haven and New-York. It is understood that the new company seeks to make connection with the city Rapid Transit lines at Mt. Vernon.

NEGLIGENCE OF THE CUNARD LINE.

The Superior Court, General Term, has affirmed the judgment recovered last Fail by Mrs. Margaret Smith against the Cunard Line for injuries caused by the negligence of the defendant. The opinion written by Judge Sedgwick is concurred in by Judges Sper and Friedman.

The evidence in the trial was that Mrs. Smith was injured by the falling of the berths above her end her subsequent falls against the sides of the cabin, when the steward took her out in a half dazed condition. The opinion of the Court reads:

"The use of ordinary skill, and of materials of ordinary strength, would enable the builder of the structure that was meant to uphold the berths to make it secure against the strans and shocks of a sea of not extraordinary violence. The means of this security being at the command of the owners of the steamship, the law presumes that there was negligence when the berths fell. The circumstances did not appear to be extraordinary, and the presumption is that the proper means had not been used."
